New labyrinth at St. James Lutheran
1315 SW Park Avenue, Portland, OR

The Labyrinth: 5,000 Years of History and Use in 45 minutes followed by labyrinth walk on the new courtyard labyrinth at St.
James Lutheran Church, Portland
Sunday, October 9, at 11AM

You are invited to walk the new labyrinth at St. James Lutheran Church in downtown Portland. People of all ages are welcome.
It's an outdoor labyrinth, so bring an umbrella just in case.

Prior to the labyrinth walk will be a presentation in which DC Donohue, will give an informative and entertaining look at how humans worldwide have created and used labyrinths from earliest history to present day.

Dreaming of making a labyrinth?

DC Donohue, labyrinth artist, and one of the founding members of LNN is making labyrinths again after a hiatus of several years. This summer she drew the new labyrinth at St. James Lutheran in Portland and the new labyrinth at Marylhurst University. Russell Hill assisted DC, and both labyrinths were painted by volunteers. DC has experience with portable canvas labyrinths and temporary labyrinths as well as permanent labyrinths. So, if you're thinking about creating a labyrinth, now would be a good time to take action.

Important Changes Coming for Labyrinth Network Northwest

As you probably noticed, I've gotten far behind in my duties for LNN because of an ongoing series of family health issues, etc. So, in an effort to reduce my workload, bring us up to date and make it easier for other people to step in and help with some of the tasks I normally do, we're making some changes. I'm struggling to learn all this new technology, but hopefully this old lady can learn some new tricks.

Our e-mail list will be handled by mail chimp which will save me a lot of time, and once it's established, it should be more accurate too. There will be the risk of inevitable technical errors as we get adjusted to the new systems. This message is coming the old fashioned way, but within the next week, you should receive a message from me sent via mail chimp. It may look a little bit different. If you don't receive it, please let me know immediately, and we'll make the necessary changes to the list. We try not to bother people with a lot of e-mails, but I may need to send a few extra this month to work out the kinks in the new system.

New Labyrinth Photo Albums

Our new photos will be available in Flickr albums. You can get links to all the new albums plus the photos from the whole history of LNN on our LNN photo pages. These Flickr albums can be viewed in 3 different ways. I prefer the big picture view. Check it out. Let me know your reaction.

LNN Beach Labyrinth Festival in July 2015 with Denny Dyke at Tierra del Mar - New photos were recently added to the ones previously posted. I told you I was far behind! <https://flic.kr/s/aHskJxi3C8>

This was such an extremely photogenic event that I'm sure you'll enjoy the pictures. After you see these pictures, perhaps you'd like to add some of your own to our collection. Send them to me via e-mail.
